Afternoon Curriculum

The lesson plans that you receive each week show you a great picture of what children are learning and experiencing each week. But what happens after 3:00? All classes (except I11) use a curriculum called Story Stretchers. Each day the classes are given a book to read together. Then they engage in activities that “stretch” their understanding of the book and help connect what they have read to the world around them.

Drawing Strangely Colored Animals (Brown Bear, Brown Bear by Eric Carle)

Creating insects with playdough and craft materials (Over in the Meadow by Olive Wadsworth)

Thank you to everyone who provided gifts for Small Steps' students. Together we provided 50 gifts to children in need. We are grateful for everyone that was willing to partner with us to support others and look forward to continuing this tradition next year!

Take a Look into T1!

We have been having an amazing school year in T1! Our children have learned the routines in our classroom that are building the foundations for their school life. We are learning and growing every day. We love to count, sing and play with our friends. We have been doing artwork themed around the letter of the week. One of our classes favorite activities is reading stories at circle time. They love to guess what might be behind the flaps in the books and waiting to find out if they are correct. We are excited to continue learning together in a classroom full of new experiences and fun!

A Peek into P3!

We are having a fantastic school year in P3! We are learning to count into the teens, letters and the sounds they make, and how to draw pictures with more details. One of our favorite things to do is sing praises to the Lord! The children get so excited about all our classroom activities. They love art and creating with play dough. Our everyday play helps us strengthen our fine and gross motor skills. One of the most important things we are learning is how to express our feelings and get along with our peers. All these skills will help us be prepared for our future learning. We're so excited for the rest of the school year and getting to see your children grow!
